Film Oxford is a registered charity (1041014) that provides adult educational film and digital creative courses, delivers projects with groups from marginalised communities, runs film screenings, and generates income through its new commercial trading wing, Film Oxford Production.

Through one of our longest-running projects we support the Shadowlight Artists, an award-winning, self-directed group of seven Oxfordshire artists with learning disabilities.

Film Oxford is committed to equality, diversity and inclusion. We are members of the Oxford Cultural Anti-racism Alliance, and signatories of its manifesto. We are committed to diversifying our staff, Board of Trustees, and pool of freelancers to better reflect the communities we work with. As such, we especially welcome applications from people of the Global Majority (those who are ethnically and culturally diverse, and who experience racism in our society). We also welcome applications from others facing structural disadvantage, including but not limited to: disabled and neurodivergent people; LGBTQIA+ people; those from economically disadvantaged backgrounds.

We will reimburse travel costs for all shortlisted candidates who attend interview.
